Club Assemblies

Club assemblies are meetings designed for club members to work on club business items such as fundraiser or service project planning. It is proven to be good club practice to have around four of these each year.

AGMs – Annual General Meetings

These are a once-a-year events best done in late November or early December, but necessarily before December 31. They are formal occasions when all the members of the club vote on the officers and directors who will represent them in the new Rotary Year that will begin on July 1st of the next calendar year. It is also a natural occasion to make changes in club bylaws. An AGM rarely uses more than 15 minutes of the hour of club meeting time.
